

June 15, 2021

We Want To See Your Red and Whites!

After hearing lots of interest from exhibitors about having a Red and White Holstein show at the New England Summer Show, we have decided to go ahead and have one starting this year! If you have Red and White Holsteins, here is your opportunity to get them out to a competitive show.

How the show will work-

All Red and White Holsteins will be entered and pay the same entry fee as any animal entered in the show. The red and whites will show with the black and whites and be eligible for all the placings and prizes that the black and whites are. The difference will be that the red and whites will step ahead in the regular classes and receive their placing for the red and white show based on the order they are standing in the class. Separate championship classes will then be run for the red and whites based on how they placed in the class. All red and white overall class winners will be eligible to compete in the black and white championship classes if they win their respective classes against the black and whites. For this year, we will only have an open division for the red and white show.

If you have questions please contact:

Cindy Putnam – putnamfarm@yahoo.com

Dan LaCoss- daniel\_lacoss@cargill.com